Wow, management, board majority, public relations firm and lawyers are really pulling out all the stops to get these proposals passed. Someone needs to add up all the money being spent. Well, they have all the money but the members still (unless these bylaws are passed) have the power to vote no and to retain their rights. It is time to fight back. Start by reading the proposed by laws, they will astonish you. But be careful as the board has been making changes to the original documents by Aaron Christensen. See this website (right column) for revised copy or copies. We are unsure of how many versions are out there. And we think it unfair that the members only have an up or down vote on the entire proposal and the SEC Board of Trustees gets to make changes in both Bylaw and Policy Proposals.

After you know what is in the proposed bylaws, talk to your neighbors, friends, co-workers, etc. Recognize that in their current form, the bylaws hurt the members and give all power to the Board of Trustees and management. Print out the attachment in the form of fliers and/or posters and distribute them in your area. Other fliers are in the works; this is just the first. Write a letter to the editor and express your opinion. We don't have the SEC money to spend but we have our voices and vote. Use them to VOTE NO!
