

051313-Annual-Member-Comments-part 1

First, praise for the members who came out and hung in there no matter what the Management/Board tried. All proposed resolutions were decided along the lines suggested by the Reform group [about 4 to 1]

It doesn't take a weatherman to know which way the wind blows.

The board made this meeting as inconvenient as possible and there was still much more than a quorum. Good questions were asked about the recent appalling treatment of employees. No answer was given. One member asked exactly how much we were paying the Wiggins law firm annually as they represent the board and not the members. No answer was given. The board's designated windbag [Don Wolberg] was chased from the podium twice by member outrage. Luis Aguilar, acting as chair, had to get told by his masters what to say...almost line by line. Ms. Latasa, secretary at the coop, continued putting on airs, sitting on the stage between the lawyers. Her attempted machinations, both at the meeting and in the co-op offices would be worrisome if they were not such abysmal failures. Mr. Cordova gave his treasurers report but twisted and stumbled over the big numbers involved.

When it came time to get down to real new business the cowering board and management tried to say there was no quorum and the meeting was over. Their minions counted armbands and it was announced that there was a quorum. Then they changed their minds and tried to shut in down again. So this annual meeting will be continued on JUNE 12th, 2013. Plan to attend. Best Free Show in town.
