LETTER: Board Needs To Be Watched

To the editor

My husband and I were absolutely thrilled to read your opinion piece about SEC in last week's paper. It had looked to us as though neither paper was reporting on the true state of affairs for fear of offending the Co-op, and never receiving any more advertising dollars. They seem to have it pretty well established that you're not going to receive any more any way. Why should they need to advertise at all? It isn't like they have any competition.

But you are oh, so right that the board needs to be watched. I have attended several meetings, and the behavior of this board is appalling.

Thanks for attending the meetings, and thanks for caring.

See you there!

Audrie Clifford
